NEW YEAR'S DAY

and every other day in the year, you want your laundry clean. And by clean, we mean all the word implies. Some laundries send the clothes back in a condition which they call "clean," but which, to a person who is used to the finest kind of laundry work, does not seem to merit that claim. We make it a point to let nothing go out of our laundry unless the work is perfect.

OLD NEW YORK

BY O. O. McINTYRE

Telegram Bureau: Rooms 121-125 Hotel Majestic, West Seventy-second Street.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—A Seventeen Thousand Dollar Dinner at $25 a plate would in high flown verbiage be regarded as Some Stuff. I attended a dinner of this kind at the Biltmore the other night to Charlie Gehring, who used to be a reporter and is now editor of the Hotel Review.

Jack McE. Bowman, of the Biltmore, and Lew Wallick, of Wallick's, engineered the feed and it is supposed to have been the last word in culinary verbiage. I perusing the menu I learned that one of the things I abhorred was the butter they serve in the country hotels. "Now whether to spear it with one fell swoop or nibble it but I watched "Diamond Jim" Brady and he cut it into tiny strips and sort of snapped at them and I followed him all through the meal.

Six orchestras were on hand and Gehring was presented with a Swiss watch, a diamond chain, diamond knife and diamond pencil and was so bewildered by it all that he could only choke out his thanks.

After the dinner ten vaudeville stars put on their acts and Bird Millman slipped off the wire and fell in a fat gentleman's lap and he woke up and asked for another cold bottle. As the diners were leaving chorus girls from a Broadway show in newboys' costume rushed in and sold extra editions of the American carrying a full report of the dinner on the first page.

The last I saw was a well known Broadwayite who had evidently eaten too much Egyptian squash handing out $10 bills with one of the girls. It was daylight when the party broke up and a right good time was had.

People will go to any lengths to secure good seats for the theater. At one of the hotels there is a girl who sells theater tickets who made $50,000 in tips in one year. It sounds strange but it is true.

The information comes from the Man Who Knows. He goes even further and says there is a man who lived in a hotel near Fifth avenue who fell in love with one of the girls in the ticket office and when she would not marry him settled $10,000 a year for life on her.

In one of those little restaurants in Washington Square where the head waiter plays a harp there came a group of young men who wore flowing ties the other night. They were serious thinkers and they sat at a table just occupied by some folk who were not so serious for the table was littered with cigar stumps, red wine and empty demitasse glasses.

At first they took up the subject of science. All agreed that science was "a microscopic scrutinizing—cell after cell—the mobile protoplasm of nature and man."

Fiction they agreed was "a kaleidoscope deftly turned by the artist, endlessly revealing the multifarious colors of reality."

A little bald headed man sat at an opposite table and finally one of the group turned to him and said: "What do you think, my friends?"

"I dunno," he said. "I ain't ever had much education and I know nothing at all about medicine."

Louis Maurice has written a pretty dramatic waltz which he calls "The Great Lover" and which is dedicated to that master actor, Leo Dietrichstein. I hear it played around the town in the better sort of places.

Another song that is making a hit and has a good chance to display the arts of the comedian or comedienne is "Since Sarah Saw Theda Bara." It seems that since Sarah saw Theda Bara she became a holy terror and does nothing but roll her eyes.
